Do I have to submit my timecard online?

All students must submit their timecards electronically.

When should I submit my timecard?

Timecards should be submitted at the end of each month. If you are working more than one job, you must submit each timecard individually.

How long do I have to enter my hours online?

Although it is recommended that you enter your hours at the end of each shift, you will have access to enter hours on a timecard that has not been submitted for 30 days. If you need to add hours older than 30 days, your supervisor will have to add the time for you and then you will need to go back in and submit your timecard for that month.

How do I access a previous month's timecard?

To access a previous month's timecard, click the previous month link on the top left of the timecard.

To enter hours, click on the appropriate day, highlight the hours you worked, then click submit.
If you are working more than one job, there will be more than one column, so be sure that you are adding hours under the correct timecard.

How do I check the status of my timecard?

To check the status of a timecard, simply log in and view that month's timecard. On the month view, you can see if the timecard has been submitted by you and/or approved by your supervisor. We recommend that you check the status of each timecard at the end of the semester. Hours will not count towards your scholarship service requirement and you will not be paid for institutional or work-study hours if they are still pending your supervisor's approval, so it is very important that you take care of any problems prior to the end of the semester.
