

BA/BS Psychology

MAJOR: PSYCHOLOGY (BACHELOR OF ARTS / SCIENCE)

MINORS OFFERED: Psychology Minor

AFFILIATED GRADUATE PROGRAMS: Master of Arts in Counseling (School, Clinical Mental Health Counselor, Rehabilitation)
Master of Arts in Disability Studies Applied Behavior Analysis

Join our close-knit community of academics dedicated to observing, describing, predicting, and modifying behavior. As a psychology major, you will learn how to better understand all aspects of humanity including motivations, thoughts, feelings, and actions.

EXPERIENCES THAT MATTER

- Opportunities for fully-funded research and conference travel
- Get personalized mentorship and advising from faculty.
- Double-major or add additional minors with our flexible courses and schedules.
- Graduates from the department have an 85%+ Masters placement rate.

ENGAGE IN ACADEMIC RESEARCH AS EARLY AS FRESHMAN YEAR.

We use the scientific method to gain insight into human experiences. Having a working knowledge of human behavior is an asset in every career field.

GRANT GOUWENS '25

“What really sets Truman apart is the people. Not only have I met some of the most impressive and welcoming professors, but countless incredible students as well... the Truman State psychology program is truly a community full of mutual support. I firmly believe I would not have achieved the same level of academic and personal success without the warmth and guidance of the psychology community...”

MORE INFO:

DISTINCT BY DESIGN

Join a community of students who are passionate about their pursuits. Learn and experience life alongside peers who will help you grow academically, culturally, and professionally.

FOR MORE INFORMATION, visit truman.edu or call the Office of Admission at 660.785.4114.

Combine our liberal arts focus with a strong foundation in your major and strengthen your skills through research experiences, service-learning opportunities, and study abroad programs.

Build your community by joining one of our many student organizations. Find your home on campus and become involved with a group that supports your interests.

Develop your professional network and skills by working with our Career Center to prepare for internships, your future career, and even graduate studies.

Ready to Take the Next Step?
Scan the QR Code
To Start Your Application.

