Alumnus Gifts $100,000 to Kick Start Severns Theatre Initiative

Steve Rose of Potomac, Md., a 1969 graduate of Truman State University, has made a lead gift of $100,000 toward a special fund raising initiative to name the main performing facility in Ophelia Parrish in honor of retired faculty member James G. Severns.

Steve Rose

Truman's Office of Advancement, guided by the James G. Severns Theatre Committee, is embarking upon a $300,000 campaign to attain naming rights to the facility as per Foundation policy.

Resources from the project will be directed to an endowment, and annual earnings will be used for equipment, technology enhancement, refurbishment, and ongoing maintenance of the theatre.

The James G. Severns Theatre, renovated in 2000, features a maximum seating capacity of 243 seats and is host to numerous plays and performances. The facility includes 132 permanent seats on the main level, 46 permanent seats on the balcony level, and 65 flexible seats.

Severns began his career at Truman in 1959 and served as professor of dramatics, director of the College Players and chairperson of the theatre department for 32 years. He retired from the University in 1991 and was granted the status of professor emeritus of dramatics. He and his wife, Patricia (Harris '66) reside in Chicago.

Rose operates a busy State Farm Insurance Agency in Rockville, Md. He has served as a member of the Truman State University Foundation Board of Directors, is a member of the Mid-Atlantic Alumni Chapter and is frequent participant at campus events. As a student, Rose participated in more than a dozen campus performances under Severns. He is a member of the Screen Actors Guild and has appeared in several motion pictures, on television, and commercials.

United Way Fund Drive Campaign Exceeds $52,000 Goal at Truman

Truman State University surpassed the fund-raising goal of $52,000 for the United Way. Truman's total collection amount was $57,942.04. The United Way of Adair County assists 13 agencies.

Conserve Energy This Winter

Heating on campus is fueled by natural gas. Natural gas prices are currently more than 50 percent higher than last winter. This means that conserving heating energy is more important than ever. Please help conserve by observing the tips listed below:

- System malfunctions: During normal working hours, report space temperatures outside of 68F-72F to Physical Plant. First check the thermostat setting, if accessible.
- On staff holidays, expect space temperatures to be reduced in buildings with modern systems (Magruder Hall, Ophelia Parrish, Violette Hall). Dates: Dec. 22-27, Dec. 31-Jan. 2.

- Exterior doors and windows: Keep them closed as much as possible. Report malfunctions to Physical Plant. If window coverings are present, close them in the evening and on cloudy days, and open them on sunny days.

- Convective heaters (radiators): make sure air flow to and from them is not blocked.

- Space heaters: For safety's and conservation's sake, always turn space heaters off when leaving them unattended. Space heaters without tip-over switches are not allowed. Consider warm stockings instead of a space heater if only your feet or legs get cold.

- Thermostats: If accessible, set them to a lower temperature (60F) during unoccupied periods. Also, communicate and compromise with your co-workers: one thermostat often affects several people.

- Dress in layers (sweaters work well), especially if you prefer to be warmer than your co-workers.

Truman Students Selected for Missouri Government Internship

Fifteen Truman State University students will begin legislative internships at the Missouri State Capitol in Jefferson City next semester as part of the Missouri Government Internship program.

The internship provides an inside look at state government. While in Jefferson City, the interns will be assigned to public officials based on compatibility and interests. The interns work with their legislator and his/her staff on a variety of jobs and tasks. The Truman interns will begin working with state representatives, legislators and in statewide offices with the start of the session Jan. 4.

The spring interns are David Bonner, a senior political science major from Matteson, Ill.; Sarah Devlin, a senior political science major from Barnhart, Mo.; Nicholas Hart, a senior political science major from Peculiar, Mo.; Ryan Hart, a sophomore political science and history double major from Jefferson City, Mo.; Parviz Jabarov, a senior business administration and political science double major from Dushanbe, Tajikstan; Kevin Jolly, a sophomore political science major from Sully, Iowa; Kyung Woo Kim, a junior economics major from Korea; Brianna Lennon, a junior political science major from Ballwin, Mo.; Zachary Monroe, a junior political science and

2006 Student Research Conference Abstract Deadline and Plenary Speaker Information

On April 20 Truman will hold its 19th annual Student Research Conference. The Conference will be a university-wide celebration of student research, scholarship, and creative achievement. Students from all academic disciplines and divisions are invited and encouraged to present their scholarly or creative work. The formal Call for Abstracts will be posted on the Conference Web site in December and distributed across campus in January 2006.

Submission of abstracts is required for all presentations and should be carried out online at <http://src.truman.edu>. A copy of the information submitted will be sent electronically to the student presenter's faculty mentor for approval. The submission site will open in January 2006, and the deadline for receiving abstracts is Feb. 22.

In addition to the many student presentations, the day will feature a conference-wide plenary address delivered by Naomi Shihab Nye, nationally acclaimed poet and essayist. Scheduled classes will not formally meet during the day of the Conference, thereby providing the opportunity for all students and faculty members to attend and fully participate.

Final Grade and Graduation Information

Fall 2005 final grades will be available on TruView by 5 p.m. on Dec. 29. To view your final grades, go to the student tab and click on "view my final grades."

Degrees for all December graduates will be posted to transcripts by 5 p.m. on Dec. 30. Students may verify their degree by logging into TruView and viewing their transcript.

Dereck Daschke, associate professor of philosophy and religion, attended the Society of Biblical Studies annual meeting on Nov. 19 in Philadelphia as the chair of the Psychology and Biblical Studies program unit, where he presided over a session on "Personality Development and the Bible" as well as delivered a review of Praeger Press' four-volume series on "The Destructive Power of Religion."

John Ishiyama, professor of political science, and John J. Quinn, associate professor of political science, had their article "African Phoenix? Explaining the Electoral Performance of the Formerly Dominant Parties in Africa" accepted for publication in the journal Party Politics. Ishiyama's article "The Former Marxist Leninist Parties in Africa After the End of the Cold War" also appeared in the most recent issue of the journal Acta Politica (Vol. 40: pp.459-479).

David McKamie, professor of music, has been appointed to the Board of Directors for the National Guild of Piano Teachers (NGPT). The NGPT is the largest nonprofit organization of piano teachers and students in the world. He also served recently as adjudicator for the Music Teachers National Association piano competition held in Iowa.

The Student Senate Leadership Excellence Award Selection Committee has selected two recipients. Two $500 awards have been awarded to Justine Finney-Guyer, a junior communication major from Purdin, Mo., and Abbie Smith, a senior exercise science major from Urbandale, Iowa. The recipients were honored at the Student Senate meeting Dec. 4.

Applications being accepted for The Next STEP 2006 Summer Undergraduate Research Experience

The Next STEP program is now accepting applications for its 2006 Summer Undergraduate Research Experience. In its second year, the program is looking for 15-20 students majoring in any science or mathematics and computer science field who are interested in spending the summer doing research. Participants will receive a $3,200 stipend, housing and meals on campus, three credit hours of research, funds for supplies, and funding to travel to a conference to present their work. Opportunities are available both on Truman's campus as well as a variety of research institutions and industries throughout Missouri. A list of mentors, projects, and partner institutions is available on the program Web site. Applications are due Feb. 1 and can be completed online at <http://step.truman.edu>.

Last summer 20 undergraduate students who were selected through a competitive application process worked full-time for 10 weeks on a research project with one to two faculty mentors and attended weekly seminars on themes that support professional and academic development. The students, from around Missouri and the nation, spent 10 weeks living on campus and performing full-time scholarly scientific and mathematical research. Selected for their talent and potential to become a professional scientist or mathematician, the students were enrolled at Truman State University, Moberly Area Community College, and Metropolitan Community Colleges (Penn Valley Campus). Students worked directly with their research mentor(s) to design, perform and interpret their research. The summer program culminated with a research symposium on Aug. 3 and Aug. 4 where students presented their work to one another and to the community.

The Next STEP is an innovative program designed to enrich the undergraduate curriculum through meaningful student/faculty interactions. By promoting cultural and curriculum change, The Next STEP is working to increase the number of students who complete a baccalaureate degree in science, technology, engineering and mathematics disciplines and better prepare them for the future that lies ahead. The Next STEP is a collaborative effort between Truman and three Missouri community colleges: Metropolitan Community Colleges, Moberly Area Community College and St. Charles Community College. This program is made possible through a generous $2 million grant from the National Science Foundation's Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics Talent Expansion Program. For more information about Truman's The Next STEP program, see the program's Web site at <http://step.truman.edu>.

Who's Who Inductees Announced

Fifty-five Truman students will be recognized in the 2005-2006 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" for their academic achievement, character, leadership and service. The students will be recognized for their achievements at a luncheon from noon to 1:30 p.m., Feb. 25, in the Student Union Building Quiet Lounge.

The following students will be recognized: Jennifer Anderson, Jose Andrade Reyes, Ilana Barash, Adam Bezinovich, Christine Black, Phillip Campbell, David Chappell, Sarah Charnes, Catherine Clark, Scott Dresser, Tomoyuki Ekuni, Nina Ellis-Hervey, Angela Farabee, Renessa Foronda, Kimberly Getman, Katie Gilbert, Christopher Gillette, Renee Gordon, Brandon Gordon, Laura Hamilton, Nicholas Hart, Keisha Hatcher, Candice Hoskins, Sucheta Jawalkar, Ashley Jay, Lindsay Justin, Laura Keck, Mark Kerkhoff, Ju-hyung Kim, Rachel King, Marcia Kottemann, Emily Lucas, Carrie Miller, Samuel Murphey, Lukin Murphy, Dung Nguyen, Laura Nguyen, Olga Nikolova, Ebubechukwu Nwazota, Carol Perry, Michael Pierson, Kristin Prange, John Romine, Rachel See, Kathryn Smith, Abbie Smith, Angela Soemo, Olumuyiwa Sowunmi, Matthew Tingle, Tammy Tolliver, Robert Tylka, Alan Venneman, Lindsay Weitkamp, Melissa Wells and Tyler Wood.

Students who are interested in securing off-campus housing for next year may find helpful information at <http://saffairs.truman.edu/rentals/index.htm>. Students may also pick up a Rental Housing Guide from the Student Senate Office, lower level of the Student Union Building.

The Center for Student Involvement (CSI) has updated their policies for posting on campus. These policies are available at the CSI, lower level of the Student Union Building.

2005 Homecoming apparel is on sale: short or long sleeve T-shirts are $5, crew neck sweatshirts are $10 and hooded sweatshirts are $15. Homecoming apparel is available in the Center for Student Involvement. Call 785.4222 for additional information.

The Kirksville area schools are in need of volunteer readers for the Martin Luther King Jr. Read-In events Jan. 19 and Jan. 20. Volunteers may sign up at the Center for Student Involvement during finals week and the holiday break. Contact Amy Currier at 785.4222 for more information.

Staff Council will be sponsoring a Red Cross blood drive from 10 a.m.-3 p.m., Dec. 14, in the SUB Activities Room. Contact Jennifer Thompson at 785.7252 for more information.

The Military Science Division cordially invites faculty and staff to attend their Open House from 11 a.m.-2 p.m., Dec. 14, in Baldwin Hall 156. For more information, contact Doug Reinsch or Carmen Barnes at 785.4451.

The Center for Teaching and Learning Weekly Lunch Series will continue from 12:30-1:30 p.m., Dec. 14, in the Center for Teaching and Learning offices, Pickler Memorial Library 204 and 205. There will be a table fellowship and discussion of "The Best Thing I Did All Semester." Call 785.4391 for more information.

Diversity Institute Fellow Stephen Hadwiger is bringing a free medical Spanish interpreters class to Truman the week of Jan. 9-13. This is an intensive 8 a.m.-5 p.m. course sponsored by Missouri Foundation for Health through the agency of Jewish Vocational Services. Spaces are limited, so contact shadwige@truman.edu for an application immediately. The annual Unity Luncheon will be at noon, Jan. 18, in the SUB Georgian Room. Cost is $7.50 per person. There will be a special presentation by Missouri performer/folklorist Gladys Cogswell. She will dramatize her perspective of the Civil Rights Movement. R.S.V.P. needed by Jan. 17 by calling 785.4016.

Phi Kappa Phi is accepting applications for the 2006-2007 Graduate Fellowship Competition. Eligible students must be an active member of Phi Kappa Phi and have applied to enroll as a full-time student in a post-baccalaureate program of study. Selection will be based on the applicant's promise of success in graduate or professional study as evidenced by academic achievement, study leadership and service, letters of recommendation, acceptance in an approved graduate program, and a statement of goals. Nationwide, 60 Graduate Fellowships in the amount of $5,000 and 40 Awards of Excellence worth $2,000 will be awarded. Applications are due to the Truman chapter, care of Mike Ashcraft, Social Science Division, by Feb. 1. Application materials are available online at <http://www.phikappaphi.org>. Contact Wynne Wilbur at 785.4435 or wwilbur@truman.edu for more information.

Phi Kappa Phi is accepting applications for the 2006-2007 Study Abroad Grant competition. All Truman students are eligible to apply and should have a minimum of 56 credit hours and no more than 90 credit hours with a minimum GPA of 3.5. Winners will receive $1,000 for study abroad between May 1, 2006, and June 30, 2007. Deadline for applications (submitted to the Society Headquarters) is Feb. 15. Application materials may be obtained online at <http://www.phikappaphi.org>. For more information, contact Wynne Wilbur at 785.4435 or wwilbur@truman.edu.

The International Student Affairs Office is looking for local families to link up with the new international students arriving in January. This is not a homestay program, but a chance for students and the families alike to learn about different cultures. Students and families enjoy participating together in normal activities such as shopping, sharing meals, and watching movies. Contact the International Student Affairs Office at 785.4215 for more information.

SCHOLARSHIP AVAILABLE

The Talbots Charitable Foundation has scholarship opportunities available to women who are currently residing in the United States, earned a high school diploma or GED on or before September 1996, enrolled or planning to enroll in a full or part-time undergraduate course of study at an accredited two or four-year college, university, or vocational-technical school, be attending the full 2006-2007 academic year and receiving a degree no earlier than May 2007, and have at least two semesters (minimum 24 credit hours) remaining to complete their undergraduate degree as of the beginning of the 2006-2007 academic year.

Applications are available in all Talbots U.S. stores, as well as through their Web site at <http://www.talbots.com/about/scholar/scholar.asp>. Deadline is Jan. 3 or until the first 1,000 eligible applications have been received, whichever occurs first.

The Truman Today is a weekly publication during the academic year. Information must be submitted by 5 p.m. the Wednesday before publication. Entries should be submitted by sending an e-mail to kbest@truman.edu or by completing a Truman Today form available in the Public Relations Office, McClain Hall 101. The form may also be accessed online at <http://trumantoday.truman.edu/submissionform.pdf>. All submitted items are subject to editing for clarity and style.
